
Title: Rejuvenation

Author: Brysun Tekira

It has been years,
since i began these experiments of
rejuvenation. i beleve
i have it right, for one that should be dead,
lives. twas some time
ago, when i preformed
the ritual upon him, i am not certian about
the subject age, he was but a begar upon
the streets of trinsic.
since that time, his body has
reconstructed its self.
his streghnth has
been replenished as well as his mental capacity. i have begun
teaching him basic spells, thoguh i am
careful to allow him
much freedom with them. In the begining,
i toruted him much,
testing the streghnth of
his energies. he withstood all that i could throw at him. i have claimed him
mind, and he now is
my enslaved minion.

This spell is very complex, unlike many other spells i have encounterd. it
requires more then simple reagent and a
skilled necromancer to properly rejuvenate
the subject. the spell
also has a tendency to claim the lives of those seeking it. i have failed far more
then i have succeded.

An assistant is needed, to the head necromancer casting the spell. this ensures the concentration is maintained on the spell. The assistant attends to the artifacts and reagents needed, as well as the bodies required.

Artifacts Required

10 bone
10 Blackmore
10 Black Pearl
10 Spiders silk
The Scepter of Steel
The blood of an enemy
This spell works best, when all reagents have been freshly harvested, and the blood is still warm.

The scepter of steel is bound with magical energy, to make the spell work. it is the key to rejuvenation. It contains the energy from one soul, before it is placed in the next.

Casting the spell -

to cast the spell, gather the artifacts. The blood must be extracted only moments before the spell is cast, as it must be warm.

Circle 3 times, around the donor before extracting the blood.

With the scepter in hand recite the words
Uus Mani Por

Quickly Extract the blood, and smear it on the scepter

Circle the reciever
three times now, and
recite the words,
Des Mani Yelm

Touch the scepter to
the reciever

The spell is now
complete. the results will vary to two degrees, one, bothe the donor and the reciever
will be compleatly
drained and colapse
dead, or two, the reciver will be rejuventaed, while the donor is now on the fringe of life its self. they will
recover in time,
thoguh, so be sure to deal with them
properly.
These things i write
with my blood,
